'PEEPING TOM' IS LOCKED UP; ELUDES POSSE

Colored Youth Arrested Today After Making Escape During Night.

Calvin E. Cross, 21-year-old, one-eyed negro, was arrested this morning by Officer Paul B. Shealer, after he eluded the night patrolman and a score of persons who sought him during the night, following a chase in which three shots were fired.

Cross, who has been in the toils of the law here before as a "Peeping Tom," was surprised by William Codori, Baltimore street, as the colored man was about to indulge in the same practice, police said.

Was Knocked Down

The negro, it is said, had been spying around the home of A. S. Mills, Baltimore street, where the Codori family resides, for several nights, and Codori last night decided to catch the alleged peeper in the act. Codori, armed with a flashlight, sat on the rear porch, which was in darkness, and about 10 o'clock, the colored man, stark naked, came stealthily up through the back yard, according to Officer Shealer.

When Cross reached the porch, Codori jumped at him, knocked him down, and believed he had him subdued. Codori then went into the house to get a gun, but the intruder took advantage of the opportunity and fled. Officer Shealer was notified, and he and Codori organized a posse, which chased the colored man through the south end of town.

Fires Shots
At one time, Codori saw the fugitive and fired three shots at him, but the shots went wild.

Officer Shealer went to Cross, home this morning, and placed him under arrest. The alleged offender later signed a plea of guilty to a charge of indecent exposure, and was committed to jail.

YOUTHS WANTED HERE SENTENCED

Two Charged With Passing Bad Checks Plead Guilty in York County.

Detainers against two York county young men, charged with forging checks in Adams county, who have been sentenced by the York county court, will be lodged, District Attorney John P. Butt, stated this afternoon.

The youths are Paul Sellers, 19, of Jackson township, York county, who was sentenced to the Huntingden reformatory, after he had made a promise to Judge Niles, of the York county bench, to mend his ways, and Paul Yost, 21, of Spring Grove, who was sent to the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of from three to six years, and to pay a fine of $300, both of whom pleaded guilty to forgery.

The pair were arrested in York county after a number of forged checks had been traced to them, and with their apprehension there, owners of five service stations in Gettysburg identified them as the youths who had passed bad checks here in excess of the purchase price of tires and other automobile accessories.

Places at which the fraudulent checks were passed were the Oyler Tire shop, Zinkand's service station, Heilman's service station, Francis' service station and Stoner's tire shop. The owners of these places have preferred charges and upon the expiration of the sentences detainers will be lodged for their return here to stand trial.

GOV. DONAHEY HERE

Governor Vic Donahey and Mrs. Donahey, of Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Filler, of Columbus, Ohio, were visitors to Gettysburg on Tuesday and toured the battlefield. Just who their guide was is not known. They are returning from an extensive tour of the New England states and were overnight guests at Graeffenburg Inn.

Cars Crash Near Biglerville Tuesday

Two cars were badly damaged but none of the occupants injured when a car bearing New Jersey license plates was forced off the road at the Hoffman farm, north of Biglerville, Tuesday evening by a machine said to have been driven by a Mr. Zimmerman, of Emmitsburg.

The New Jersey car was badly damaged when it ran into the Hoffman orchard and crashed against several trees. The driver or owner of the machine could not be learned, but the car was taken to the E. L. Weikert garage for repairs. The Emmitsburg car was taken to that place.

BANK INSTALLED IN SHOWROOM AT WEIKERT GARAGE

Sign Lease To Use Display Room Of Garage For Two Months.

The Gettysburg National bank will occupy the showroom of the E. L. Weikert garage, York street, for two months. A lease for that time was signed with Mr. Weikert after a special meeting of the board this morning.

Although working in rather cramped quarters, the officers of the bank said they would endeavor to give the same service at their temporary location that they were accustomed to offer at their regular stand.

After the scaffold in the main banking room collapsed Tuesday morning, Mr. Weikert offered the directors the use of his showroom until the bank building, now undergoing extensive remodeling, is ready for occupancy. After the garage's offer was accepted, workmen began erecting temporary counters around two sides of the showroom. Electric light company employees and workmen of the Bell and Cumberland Valley Telephone companies installed lights and phone service.

In appreciation of the many solicitous offers of service on the part of friends of the bank, the officers and directors today issued the following statement: "The officers and directors of the Gettysburg National bank take this opportunity to express their grateful appreciation of the prompt service and many courtesies extended to them by their friends immediately after the collapse of the scaffolding which necessitated closing the bank for the day.

"Within twenty-four hours, with the aid of prompt and willing service, the furniture and effects of the bank had been moved to the Weikert garage showroom where business is now going on as usual."

GRANT STAY IN SHERIFF'S SALE AT MOUNT JOY

Judge Davison Sets Date For Hearing Facts In Community Group Levy.

Judge Watson R. Davison, Chambersburg, specially presiding during the absence of Judge D. P. McPherson, handed down a decree Tuesday afternoon, staying the sheriff's sale of the community hall at Two Taverns, scheduled for July 28.

At the same time, Judge Davison awarded a rule on Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Mummert, Two Taverns, to show cause why the judgment entered to record here should not be opened so as to allow the Mt. Joy community association to enter a defense. The rule was made returnable July 30.

In a petition, presented to Judge Davison at his home in Chambersburg, Tuesday afternoon by Attorney William Hersch, representing the community association, a committee, appointed at a largely attended meeting of shareholders, Monday evening, alleges that C. W. Bucher, president of the association, and E. J. Sponseller, secretary-treasurer, were without "right and authority" to enter into an agreement for the purchase of the land on which the community hall is built from Mr. and Mrs. Mummert.

The Mummerts have instituted proceedings in the local courts for $399, the balance due on the purchase price for the land under an agreement which they entered into with Mr. Bucher and Mr. Sponseller. After giving the Mummerts a check for the purchase price, Mr. Sponseller had payment stopped because, it is said, he discovered that he and the president were without authority to buy the land.

The committee, appointed to represent the shareholders of the association in the action to stay the sheriff's sale, comprised George M. Conover, B. S. Bowers and Charles C. Little.

GUARD UNIT LEADS LIST

Local Motor Repair Company Gets High Rating in Annual Inspection.

Commendation for their high standing in the recent annual inspection by state and federal officers has been received by the Motor Repair Section, 105, of the Twenty-eighth division, Pennsylvania National guard, stationed here. Lieut. Ralph Deatrick is the commanding officer of the unit.

The local guardsmen received a percentage of 90.31 in the inspection, leading all of the other companies of the 28th division train. The local unit is comprised of one officer and 21 men.

The local unit will go into camp at Mount Gretna August 4 and this year they will receive in addition to their other mobile machine shop a five-ton tractor, a five-ton Liberty truck and a tank truck. The machine truck and the other pieces of equipment are stored at Mt. Gretna for the summer training.

The advance detail of the local unit will leave for Mt. Gretna on August 2 and the remainder of the company will follow on August 4. They will remain in camp until August 18.

BARLOW PICNIC DATES ARE SET

The annual Barlow community picnic will be held this year at the Chester Schriver grove, near that place, on August 15 and 16, according to the announcement by members of the committee, today. The picnic has been an annual affair which draws hundreds from far and wide and the exhibit of fruit, animals, vegetables and other farm produce is of the highest order.

The detailed plans for the picnic have not been worked out completely for this year but it is expected to be similar to the successful one held last year at the same place.

William Grecht Home From 19th Trip Abroad

Homeward Journey on George Washington Finest Atlantic Crossing of Any of 39 Which He Has Made, Local Traveler Declares; Docked at New York on Tuesday.

William Grecht, Springs avenue, is glad to be in Gettysburg again, following his nineteenth trip to Europe. Mr. Grecht arrived in New York Tuesday morning and was met by his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Karn, at the pier and brought to Gettysburg by automobile.

Mr. Grecht said this morning that the trip from Bremen to New York, which he made on the steamship George Washington, was the finest crossing he has ever enjoyed in the 39 times he has traveled the ocean.

Perfect Crossing
"The trip from Bremen took eight and one-half days and could have been made in less time had we not stopped at Southampton and Cherbourg, but throughout the entire time, we did not have one minute of storm. While the sun did not shine the entire time the sea was as calm as a lake and the 600 passengers returning from Europe were not annoyed with the usual seasickness," Mr. Grecht said this morning.

The local traveler left New York on April 28 and went directly to Naples, Italy, thence traveling to Genoa, to Pisa, to view the wonderful leaning tower, which he ascended. He went from there back to Naples and thence to the Isle of Capri, Sorrento, thence to Rome where he spent several days viewing the historic places in that capital.

Mr. Grecht then went to Milan but hurried on to Germany, stopping at Heidelberg to visit the university there, going next to

Work on Lutheran Camp is Underway

350,000 Gallon Swimming Pool To Be Constructed This Summer; Work On Buildings Expected To Begin Next Week; Effort Is Made To Collect Money

While the work of clearing off the land and preparing for building of the swimming pool at the Brysonia camp tract, which will be operated by the Lutheran church and Parish School committee, has been under way for several weeks, the problem of collecting money for the purchase of the tract has not been quite so successful.

A total of approximately $5000 has been subscribed for the purchase of the 100 acres of mountain land near Brysonia. The money was collected within a short time by a group of containous who were interested in securing the camp for Adams county. The subscriptions were turned over to a group of upper county men, who have been endeavoring to collect the money. So far their efforts have netted them approximately $600 and as it is important that this be paid so that the deed for the land be turned over to the holding corporation within a short time so that the work may be pushed to completion, S. A. Skinner, who is in charge of the collection, has asked that all persons who subscribed to the fund pay their subscription immediately. Workmen in charge of Elias N. Hoffman, of Arendtsville, have been at work clearing out the underbrush and getting some of the trees felled for the building of cabins. The lumber for the buildings, which will include a number of cabins to house the campers, a dining hall, administration and recreation building and other necessary buildings, is already on the ground and work on these buildings will be started next week.

Construction of a swimming pool, 150 feet long, 60 feet wide and ranging in depth from two to 10 feet, will be commenced shortly so that it will be ready for the opening of the camp next year. The pool will require approximately 350,000 gallons of water to fill it.

A reservoir 20 feet square and 10 feet deep to supply drinking water for the campers is also being built, affording a constant supply of 30,000 gallons of pure mountain water, all of which has been tested by state health authorities and found to be the best to be found.

SAY MAN BROKE COURT PAROLE $1000 GIVEN TO HOME IN WILL

Clarence Seibert Brought Here From Baltimore; Faces Larceny Sentence.

Charged with breaking parole, Clarence E. Seibert, of near Abbottstown, was arrested in Baltimore county and brought back to Adams county where he faces a charge of larceny for which he was paroled by Judge McPherson.

Seibert was placed on parole about a year ago. According to Sergeant Joseph Merrifield and Detective Charles Wilson, who took him into custody, Seibert persuaded a girl inmate at an institution for feeble-minded, near Baltimore, where he was working, to leave with him. He and the girl were caught, and Seibert was fined in Baltimore county.

Seibert was placed in jail, and will now probably be sentenced on the larceny charge for which he was paroled.

WOMAN STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

Mrs. Alice Currens, who suffered a paralytic attack while alone at her home, Orrtanna R. 1, last Saturday evening, was today reported to be in a critical condition.

She was stricken while a grandson, John Herring, who lives with her, went to his home to bring his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Herring, for a visit. When the Harrings arrived, they found Mrs. Currens, who is 71 years old, unconscious beside her bed.

WATER CONCERN FILES DENIAL TO TO ALLEGATIONS

Say New Rate Charged Here Puts All Domestic Consumers in Same Category.

Categorical denial of the allegations in complaints of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce and a group of local apartment building owners against changes in the tariff of the Gettysburg water company is contained in the answer of the public utility filed with the public service commission.

The complainants protested against the rates, classifications, rules and practices of the water company as amended and against the alleged discriminatory character of rates and charges.

The protest was based primarily upon the multiple minimum rate for apartment buildings, which went into effect July 1. Under this rate system, the company charges a minimum residential rate of $18 a year for every tenant, office or business in the building, instead of a single commercial minimum of $24 a year.

No Date Set
The answer, filed with the commission by Nauman and Smith, Harrisburg attorneys, says, in part:

"The supplement complained against makes no change in the rates and tariffs, except insofar as they affect apartment houses or buildings containing more than one apartment. The rate per gallon is not changed but is made applicable to all consumers of the same class. By the supplement aforesaid, each particular owner or tenant is defined as an individual consumer and charged for water accordingly.

"The effect of such a rule is to place all domestic consumers in the same category whether they live in private houses or apartments."

The public service commission has not yet set a date for a hearing.

MRS. MARTIN IS BURIED TUESDAY

Mrs. Eiker Dazed When Informed of Death of Husband

Sobs As Death Warrant Is Read By Sergeant Merrifield, But Has Nothing To Say Concerning Deed; Will Be Lodged In Private Home Until Able To Go To Jail.

BROTHER OF EIKER TELLS OF WOMAN'S ACTIONS AFTER SHOOTING

Coroner's Jury Views Body at Funeral Parlor Preparatory to Holding Inquest; District Attorney Butt Making Efforts to Bring Case to Trial at August Term.

A warrant, charging Mrs. Helen Eiker with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband, Percy Eiker, at their home on Steinwehr avenue, Tuesday morning, was read to the frail, 20-year-old widow and mother of a two-year-old son, Percy, Junior, at the Warner hospital, shortly before noon today.

While the knowledge that she stood accused in the eyes of the law as the slayer of her husband visibly affected the sickly woman, she had been prepared for the shock by her physician, Dr. C. G. Crist, who a few moments before, gave her the first information that her husband had succumbed to the shotgun wound in the chest.

Seemed Stunned At News
Mrs. Eiker appeared stunned by the news of her husband's death, being too overcome to give utterance to her thoughts. In order to prepare her for what the physician expected would be a second and almost as great a shock as the knowledge of her husband's death—the reading of the murder warrant—he gave Mrs. Eiker a sedative to calm her frayed nerves.

DISCOVER 3 MEN OF ITALIA CREW MISSING 43 DAYS

Russian Aviator Unable To Make Landing Near Trio, Due To Ice Pack.

Moscow, July 10.—(AP)—Virtually given up for dead, three men of the ill fated Noble expedition have been discovered alive on the ice packs to the North of North-east Land.

They are Doctor Malmgren, Captain Mariano, pilot of the dirigible Italia, and Captain Zappi, navigator. They had been tramping their weary way over the ice for 43 days.

Unable To Land
A Russian aviator, Chukhnovsky who took off from the ice breaker Krassin this morning, sighted the wayfarers from afar. About the same time the castaways saw the plane and two of them waved frantically with battered flags. The third was lying down.

The Russian aviator circled over them five times seeking a landing place but was forced to return to the Krassin.

He returned to the marooned men this afternoon.

Will Rush Aid
The Russian aviator's efforts will be devoted to finding a landing spot or picking some route whereby some aid may be sent speedily to the three men. It is possible that other planes have flown over them as they appeared as little specks against the glistening ice fields.

Discovery of the castaways has sent a thrill through the hearts of those aboard the Krassin which for 20 days has been continuously smashing through the ice floes in an effort to reach the members of the crew of the Italia.

SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. GRIMES

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha E. Grimes, widow of William Grimes, who died last Friday at the home of a son, in Carlisle, were held Monday in Carlisle, the Rev. C. F. Floto officiating. Interment was in the Bendersville cemetery.

Pallbearers were seven grandsons, John Grimes, Winrow Stover, Lloyd Stover, Glenn Stover, Gordon Grimes, Lawrence Grimes and Glenn Grimes.

RAID MEETING OF SHERIFFS

Quantity of Liquor Alleged to Have Been Found at Conneaut Lake Convention.

Conneaut Lake, July 11.—Headed by District Attorney Stuart Culbertson of Crawford county, detectives Tuesday raided the sessions of the Pennsylvania State Sheriffs' Association in convention here, confiscated a quantity of liquor and arrested Robert Clark, a bellhop, who, Culbertson charges, the sheriffs admitted was dispensing liquor as their employee. Culbertson said he demanded bail of $2500 for the boy, but that Justice A. G. Burgoyne, who is also the Conneaut Lake publicity man, reduced the bond to $500, which was furnished by the secretary of the sheriffs, who instructed the bellhop to "skip," according to Culbertson.

Finds Men Drunk

Culbertson said that he was notified of great disorder at the convention, that he personally secured a search warrant, summoned County Detective Lally and went to the scene.

"When we got there," said Culbertson, "we heard them cursing. I broke into the place and found them reeling about like a lot of drunken hogs. It was the worst mess I ever saw. Bottles were being hurled about and men were fighting. We arrested the bellhop, as he was serving liquor. The sheriffs destroyed a whole bathtub of bottled liquor which was packed in ice.

"They were all in a bad way and two of them attacked me. I told them that I was and they asked me to free the bellhop, but I refused. There were at least forty men in the room, and all of them were drunk.

More Booze Delivered

"While I was there five additional cases of whisky were carried in and I told the whole gang what I thought of them, that I was surprised and ashamed that officers sworn to uphold the law would violate it in this manner."

None of the sheriffs was arrested. Tom Sterrett, Erie county sheriff, who was elected president of the association Monday, said politics was back of the raid. He said it was made as a demonstration against Sheriff Charles H. Jones, of Crawford county. He branded the raid as "the worst thing I've heard of since General Butler exposed his host, Colonel Williams, at an army dinner."

Short Time Here

Fiddling his way from New York to the Pacific coast, Otto Funk, who lays claim to being the champion old-time fiddler of Illinois and "world champion marathon fiddler," fiddled his way through Gettysburg today.

The old fellow is making a coast to coast tour, walking and fiddling every step of the way. He is preceded by his manager, who carries his camping outfit and who, meeting him in town today, took him, during the noon rest period, to the battlefield, where they staged a patriotic celebration, the fiddler playing "The Star Spangled Banner," and the manager, A. L. Grunly, of Morrisonville, Illinois, taps.

ROBBERS USE TORCH

Pittsburgh, July 11.—(AP)—Safe robbers used an acetylene torch early today to break into a safe of a building and loan association. They escaped with $1,500 in cash.

Almost 200 rare tortoises brought back from the Galapagos islands are to be used for breeding in the hope that they may be introduced into this country as an economic asset.

PILOTS FORCED TO HAVE PERMIT

Rigid Enforcement of Aeronautics Bureau Rules Being Made.

Harrisburg, July 11.—"Produce a license or keep your plane on the ground."

This, in effect, is the notice being served in every section of Pennsylvania to pilots and owners of ships by the bureau of aeronautics, department of internal affairs, and inspectors of the federal bureau, cooperating with the Pennsylvania authorities in enforcing the new air regulations, effective July 1. Assisting also in the drive to make flying safe in the commonwealth is the highway patrol, the members of which will serve notice generally that to operate aircraft legally in Pennsylvania pilots and ships must carry either a state or federal license. In the case of planes being used for the carrying of passengers, freight and express, state licenses must have been issued as well as a certificate of public convenience from the public service commission.

Inspect Craft

Federal aircraft inspectors spent the past week in Pennsylvania hunting down operators of unlicensed aircraft and checking up with state officials on pilots and planes who possess licenses. One of the drives being made by federal inspectors is that of taking up letters of authority issued to pilots which enabled them to operate until such time as their examinations have been completed. In some instances it was found that pilots had been neglecting to place themselves in position to complete their tests, being content to carry on under the letters. With a view to compelling airmen either to take their examinations or surrender the letters of authority, federal and state officials will continue their hunt for this class of neglectful birdmen.

Non-Residents Busy

A check-up for the week ended July 7 revealed that several planes from outside the state which had been operating for one and two-day stands in various sections of the commonwealth had left for parts unknown. This class of aircraft, under the regulations of the department of internal affairs, must carry not only licenses, but get permission of the public service commission, to operate.

The department of internal affairs has, since July 1, received more than a score of requests from pilots, plane owners, mechanics and students requesting application blanks. These are being forwarded, and when returned will be put into the hands of inspectors and the applicants notified of the time and place where they can undergo their physical tests by physicians designated by the department.

Hanover Lady, Ailing for Years, Is Helped By Stewart's New Prescription

Declares New Remedy Brought Relief After Other Remedies Had Failed.

"After taking Stewart's New Prescription, pains in my back vanished," said Mrs. Martin Hoke, 122 Locust St., Hanover, Pa., to the Stewart's expert who is now at People's Drug Store. "For years I had been troubled with sharp pains in my back over my kidneys and of late I could hardly get up or down at times. I was continually tired and the least thing I did would tire me so I could hardly get around. A friend of mine had noticed the articles on Stewart's New Prescription in the local paper and persuaded me to try it. I am certainly glad for the relief I obtained from this tonic. All the pains I formerly had are gone and I no longer tire so easily. My appetite is good and my digestion is all that I could ask for."

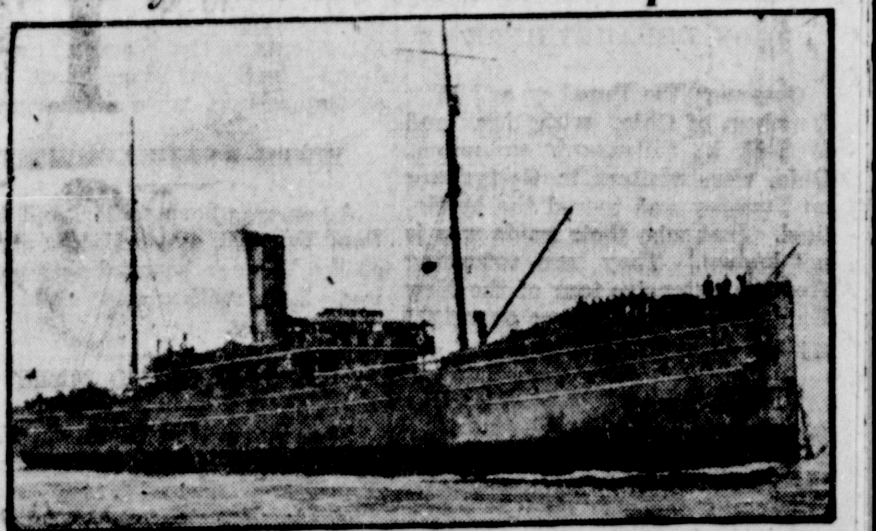

The Stewart's Specialist is now at People's Drug Store. Stop in and see him.—adv.

THIRD FLOOR, COAT DEPARTMENT

Here Is the Good Reason for These Terrific Price Cuts ---

The Ladies Bazaar always carries large stocks of fine merchandise to insure a complete selection at all times for our customers. When we bought our Spring and Summer Stocks for this season's selling we bought much heavier than in any time of our history. Unfortunately the season has been very backward and filled with rainy weather leaving us with a much larger stock than we ordinarily would have at this time of the year. Our policy is to completely clear our stocks every season. We never carry anything over from one season to the next—everything you buy here is NEW. To accomplish an absolute and quick clearance we have reduced prices down to rockbottom—costs and selling prices are totally forgotten.

Well Done.—The pictures of Generals Meade and Lee, tacked up in the corners of the arch in the Public Square, were painted and presented by Maurice Schriver, of this place. The paintings are well executed and shows the ability of the young artist.

Visiting Old Home.—Dr. James Cress and wife, of Wheaton, Ill., are spending some time with relatives and friends in this place. In former years Dr. Cress practiced medicine in this place, and during the battle here engaged in hospital work. He left Gettysburg in '69, since which time he has been very successful in his professional calling. The doctor speaks of the West in the highest terms.

Celebration of 40th Anniversary of Battle of Gettysburg.—John Burns' Statue Dedicated.—Governor Pennypacker Speaks.—Masterly Address by Rev. Dr. E. J. Wolf.—Monument Unveiled by Miss Virginia O'Neal.—Celebration of Charge of Pickett and Pettigrew.—Speeches Made by Gen. H. S. Huidekoper, Col. A. K. McClure and Maj. Gen. O. O. McPherson Welcomes the Firemen.—The Parade.—Grand Display of Fireworks.—Excellent Music Furnished.

The historic town of Gettysburg has seen many large gatherings and her people have witnessed impressive ceremonies and listened to eloquent speeches by distinguished men from all over this broad land, therefore we have become used to great gatherings, but the celebration last week of the Fortieth Anniversary of the great battle fought here in 1863, was one of unusual interest. From the same platform on the very spot where the Blue and Gray struggled for supremacy, they met as friends delivered speeches and recited reminiscences of the mighty conflict.

Wednesday was the opening day and the first event of any consequence was the dedication of the statue of John Burns, the "Hero of Gettysburg". Chief Marshal Hon. Theodore McAllister assisted by Dr. Henry Stewart formed the procession to the monument in the following order:

1. Eighth Regiment Band.
2. Grand Army Posts.
3. Gov. Pennypacker and Reception Committee with Guard of Honor or composed of members of Independent guard company.
4. Members of the Battlefield Commission.
5. Invited Guests in carriages.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GOLF

I SHALL always contend that golf is one of the finest games in this world. Even though I did wait too long before I took it up. I used to think it was "an old man's game." I long ago gave up that foolish idea.

No one who has followed the great matches of recent years could form any such idea. It takes brains, physical strength and control, and a love for perfection to become a fine golfer.

In the recent great contest for the open Championship of America, two of the greatest and gamiest players in the world met in the final—Bobby Jones and Johnny Farrell. And Farrell won by a single putt—after having tied in the final regulation round. A fraction of an inch out of the way lost to that marvelous player Bobby Jones.

I believe that golf tests out the mental control of a man's mind to a greater degree than any game on this earth. The rustle of a leaf at the wrong time could easily lose a Championship!

But the fine thing about golf lies in its beauty. There you are out in the open fields of Nature. And you select your companion. If a man wants to find out about the innermost fineness of a man, just take him out for a game of golf. And maybe you won't find that fineness, after all! For there is no game that so reveals character as this.

You get right to the depths of a man—without having to say a word to him all the afternoon, simply by taking him on for "eighteen holes."

More women should play this game. And every boy should learn it and master it to the extent of his ability.

But it is not necessary to be a Champion to love and enjoy this game. The aim, however, should be to keep excellent and to so play that you might always be considered "a delightful companion."

I hope the time will come when every city and small town—every high school and college, will have its own golf course. It should never be a "rich man's game," nor a professional's.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

WHEN THE BOY GROWS UP

They named the baby after me
Just sixteen years ago,
And now he's old enough to be
Some little damsel's beau.
And now the mail which bears my name
And calls upon the phone
I find are not for me to claim
Exclusively my own.

"Is that you, Eddie?" questioned one
Whose voice was sweet to hear.
"It is," said I. She started on
To make a date, I fear.
"Just wait," I cried, "I think that you
Would not appear so glad
Or laugh so gayly if you knew
This Eddie is the dad."

The Eddie calls come thick and fast
And few are now for me,
My popularity fades fast
While his is yet to be.
A most confusing thing this is,
Friends get us on the line
And often think my voice is his,
Or take his voice for mine.

Last night there came a shock to me
Across that telephone,
"Hello," said I. "Hello," said he.
Then in a certain tone,
Thinking he knew Dad's voice, and yet
Not recognizing mine,
He said: "I don't want you. Please get
The old man on the line."

"Well, well, well! This is a warm day," sighed Uncle Lucky, the old gentleman rabbit, wiping his forehead with his blue silk pocket handkerchief. "It certainly is a warm day. I wonder what my little nephew is doing," and picking up the receiver, he shouted over the wire—

"One, two, three! Toss and catch! Rail Fence Corner, Bramble Patch!"

The next minute a sweet voice enquired who was calling. "Your Uncle Lucky," chuckled the old gentleman rabbit. "I made my voice husky in order to see if your ears would convince you the caller was me!"

"Well, you are poetical this morning," laughed Lady Love, the little rabbit lady. "You are talking in rhyme, did you know it?" "Maybe, and then, perhaps, not," replied honest Uncle Lucky. "But where's my bunny nephew?"

"Oh, he went out early this morning," answered the little lady rabbit. "Right after breakfast he slipped on his knapsack and hopped away, clipperty, clipperty, clipperty, clip!"

"Where did he go?" asked disappointed Uncle Lucky. "I'm sure I don't know," answered Lady Love.

"Dear, oh, dear," sighed the old gentleman rabbit. Yes, he sighed maybe three times, for he was very fond of being with his bunny nephew. "Well, goodbye," he added, and hung up the telephone. Then, putting on his old wedding stovetop hat, disappointed Uncle Lucky hopped out of his red shingled house on the corner of Lettuce Avenue and Carrot Street and went in search of his little rabbit nephew. Down Lettuce Avenue he hopped, clipperty, clip, clipperty, lip, with never a stumble and nary a slip, and on reaching the Shady Forest, stopped a moment to consider which way to turn.

"Maybe I'd better go down to the Old Duck Pond," he murmured, and direct to Denver, Col., and will visit Yellowstone Park, go through Arizona and Mexico, and return home by Kansas City and St. Louis.

RANKS WITH THE HIGHEST

One of the quiet, persistent and successful real estate men, who deserves special mention in this feature is Mr. C. A. Williams, at 42 Hanover street. In calling on this real estate man, the editor asked about business conditions and his answer was "fine, besides there is no part of Pennsylvania that holds a greater number of opportunities and a place for a home or farm than Gettysburg and Adams county." At present he has listings of homes and business opportunities as well as farms. If you are looking for a home or an investment in real estate, Mr. Williams is the very person to go to see. You will find him ready and willing to assist you to the full extent of his ability. As a result of his honesty and fairness he has gained an unestimated reputation and is counted among the live progressive business men in this vicinity. He is one of the oldest in his line in town and knows conditions here and in the surrounding counties. He has been associated with real estate for years and knows its problems from every angle. His word is his bond and he was never accused or known to have misrepresented a single transaction, and for honesty he stands in the highest rank. His policy is going at a thing thoroughly, ever having his client at heart, so he attends to every known detail in every transaction, taking an interest as if it were his own property transaction. He sells anything in the real estate line has by employing fair business methods he has each year increased his business. What is more he does 90 per cent of his business with local people. Find out how Mr. Williams has increased his business each year.

THE YOUNG MEN'S SHOP

When you buy anything in men's furnishings, a suit, a hat, a shirt or tie you expect them to form almost a part of you for many days. Isn't it worthwhile to make sure that they have all of the essentials necessary to satisfaction, fit and individuality. If you will go to the Young Men's Shop, at 28 Baltimore street, you are sure to obtain all of these and more, for here is a store that believes in service as well. The manager, Mr. Irvin Bierer, is a live, progressive business man, who believes not only in the store but in the community in which he lives. This store, which is "Right in Style and Right in Price" carries an extensive and varied line of men's furnishings including everything to meet the requirements of the particular dressers. This store can supply the men and young men of Gettysburg with everything in this season's line at prices so reasonable as to meet with the purse of everyone. Everyone knows the slogan "Where quality is highest and prices are lowest and they know it means the Young Men's Shop. Mr. Bierer carries the Nottingham Fabric suits, Marlboro Shirts and Metro hats and a line of men's and ladies' shoes. Mr. Bierer has been in the clothing business for twenty years and knows it like a book. Pay a visit to the shop and find out why he sells the most men's clothing in town?

GETTYSBURG 400 LEADER

How can you do it? How can you enslave yourself these outdoor days by sticking in the house washing, ironing and cooking? Mr. man, it takes the "blush" from your wife's, daughter's or mother's cheek, putting the "Flush" there instead. As you know, electricity is indeed today the forerunner of civilization. It has made possible hundreds of ways of lightening toil. At this time of year in your home you will find scores of uses for electrical appliances such as the Easy Thor or Haag washers, an electric ironer, an Apex, Bee Vac or General Electric Vacuum cleaner, not to mention the latest as well as the greater device to humanity—the Frigidaire. You should make your home a better place to live in by placing a Frigidaire in it, then all your ice worries would be over. Red Grange is some ice man but with a Frigidaire you need no "living ice man." This electric refrigerator is beautifully finished in snow-white and two tone porcelain. Take our advice and stop in at the Live Wire Electric Company at 106 Baltimore street and inspect this wonder. Just turn the switch and in a few minutes like magic you have plenty of ice cubes. The Frigidaire safeguards even the most perishable foods in its crisp dry atmosphere, always maintaining a constant temperature of below 50 degrees. You can have implicit faith in the Frigidaire and its service. You now have 22 models at reasonable prices to choose from. You can have implicit faith in the Frigidaire and its service. Mr. H. L. Oyler, the owner of the Live Wire Electric Co., is eager for the success of the community. This Live Wire Co., carries a line of fixtures and does electrical wiring and installation work. They are now installing the Gettysburg White Way Standards and recently required the First National Bank. Stop at this shop and learn why the Frigidaire has eliminated the brine coil.

HIGH SPOTS IN RADIO

When you are looking for someone to repair your radio, you want to be sure you are getting an expert, and getting a man who knows what a good radio is—knows their construction and operation and the factors that mean real service. Well, that's what you are getting when you call Mr. Edgar Warren at 158 York street. This man not only supplies you with batteries for all kinds of work and battery parts, but installs and repairs radios, being a practical radio expert of nine years' experience. Mr. Warren is always looking after the best service, with the least time and cost. This man is truly one radio man who knows "how" and is known best for the splendid "service" he gives. He sells, installs and services the selective Sonora radios, which are made by a reliable music manufacturer of many years standing. Mr. Warren has the agency for the Universal Battery, which company for 25 years has been known to use only first class materials and to stamp their name on every battery leaving the factory. This company makes the only NuSeal battery for farm power, which features easy accessibility to all parts. Mr. Warren also carries a line of electrical appliances. His interest in his work assures you of competent workmanship. Stop at his shop and learn three outstanding points of the splendid Universal Batteries.

RULES

Daily there will appear different brief paragraphs in this column bringing out distinctive features of Gettysburg's business institutions. There is a question in each article. Read every line of each story, for questions may be asked anywhere in the story, and there may be more than two questions in some paragraphs. The persons sending in the most correct and nearest answers to the questions will be given prizes daily. In case of ties a duplicate award will be given each tying contestant. The judges' decision will be final. Every one has an equal opportunity to win. Anyone can answer daily or as many times as desired. To the person sending in the most answers during the contest will be given a $25.00 grand prize. Call in person to get answers. Any of the parties written up will answer any question. Answers may be sent by mail or brought to this office within three days after publication. Winners and answers will be published each day. This knowledge competition is open to all except employees of this paper and their families. Address: Who's Who Contest Editor, care Gettysburg Times.
